Buzzi & Buzzi – a leading lighting brand known internationally for its totally disappearing products in Coral – has provided the lighting for a private home in Switzerland, which has a panoramic view of Lugano Lake.

The renovation of the house, built in the 60s, gave life to a modern and innovative house, made unique by features such as the sloped ceiling and the split-level living room. Because of these peculiarities, the Buzzi & Buzzi team, in cooperation with the owners, delivered lighting, using both products from its catalogue and customised solutions.

Jacobox is the Buzzi & Buzzi product that was chosen for the sloped walls: this totally disappearing recessed luminaire, thanks to its square shape, can highlight any architecture without modifying their appearance. In fact, it can be found both in the hallway spaces – stairs and waiting room – and in the more used rooms – living and recreation room.

Three Funnel luminaires, installed on the sloped ceiling thanks to an ad hoc-realised box, were chosen to light up the dining area of the living room. With their soft, elegant and smooth shapes, these suspended luminaires contribute to create the atmosphere of precious elegance which characterises all the environment.

In the living room, Buzzi & Buzzi installed pairs of the ceiling luminaires Sidus – bright stars that create a discreet and non-blinding light. They also decorate with simplicity the details of the designed space, in step with the minimal design of the entire building.

The back wall of the living zone is illuminated by the unique light of Leaf, a semi-recessed luminaire, specifically studied to become an integral part of the wall and create special lighting effects.

Buzzi & Buzzi also brought its magical touch in the small bedroom, lit by the soft light of Globe, a totally disappearing recessed luminaire. This bright circle – with a wallwasher parabola which can be arranged up or down – is perfect to create original compositions and to enhance every space. Another luminaire installed in the small bedroom is Pipedo Open, a bi-emission wall lamp that emanates a welcoming and non-invasive ambient light. In this case, the device does not disappear, but becomes the protagonist, turning itself into a decor element of the room.

Pipedino Open, a bi-emission wall lamp that is smaller than Pipedo, was used in the bathrooms with Phantom, the totally disappearing recessed luminaire, with IP44 protection degree, which gives an added value to the soft light of the space. These luminaires work together, in synergy with the totally disappearing recessed luminaire Spirit, in order to always create a scenic design of no ordinary light.

Once again, Buzzi & Buzzi lighting gives birth to an exclusive and original dwelling, which matches functionality, attention to detail and technological innovation in a welcoming and comfortable domestic environment.
